SATURDAY, AUGUST 11, 1866.

MAJ. GEN. JAMES S. NEGLEY.—In another column we publish a spirited letter from General James S. Negley, in which he places himself squarely upon the platform of the Union Republican Party, and refutes in no gentle terms the rumors put in circulation concerning him. We do not speak for the gallant soldier a careful perusal of his letter.

FEARS have been entertained that efforts would be made to retaliate on the Philadelphi Convention some portion of the violence inflicted on the Louisiana Constitutional Convention. We understand that precautionary measures have been concerted by the State and city authorities to maintain order and ensure personal security. This is well. Not only high considerations of duty require this, but the lower considerations of expediency. By all means let the President and his supporters have a monopoly of brutality and bloodshed. Loyal men ought not, and must not, sully their fame and damage their cause by resorting to violence.

The Chicago Times, speaking of Dr. Dostie, the New Orleans martyr, calls him, "One of those pestilent ruffians and demagogues fortunately killed."

Turn we now from the Northern Democrat to a candid Southerner.

The Galveston, Texas, Bulletin says:

"Dr. Anthony P. Dostie, who was killed was the last Union man to leave the State; he openly denounced the Confederacy long after actual fighting began. Whatever may be said of the rest, no man charged him with dishonesty. He was, undoubtedly, very indiscreet."

The contrast is instructive.

SEVERAL of our readers as have gone carefully over the detailed statement of Governor WELLS, which we published yesterday, will have juster conceptions than before of the entire absence of provocation for the New Orleans massacre. It was a shameless butchery, deliberately planned, not so much to disperse the Convention, from whose action nothing was feared, as to alarm and drive out of the South all the men who are not in the rebel interest.

THE federal office-holders recently dismissed in this county were most unexceptionable and unblemished in their characters and conduct. Faithful, courteous, and accommodating, they had the confidence and esteem of the entire business community. They were removed simply because they refused to follow President JOHNSON and Senator COWAN in their betrayal of the republican party.

CAPT. SAMUEL RIDDLE, late Postmaster of Allegheny, had resigned that position before the guillotine demanded his head, and had accepted the post of secretary to a Paper Manufacturing Company. He made an excellent officer, and carries with him into his private pursuits the respect and confidence of all who knew him.

WE undertook, yesterday, to report General Negley as saying he would vote for Mr. Moorhead, if he should be nominated, but would oppose him on the stump and through the press." The types made us report him as saying he "would not vote for Mr. Moorhead."

THE Republican State ticket in Illinois, nominated last Wednesday, stands: For Congress-at-large, Gen. John A. Logan; for State Treasurer, George W. Smith, and for Superintendent of Public Instruction, Newton Bateman.

THE managers of the Philadelphia Convention have determined to rule Mr. Vallandigham out. He is about the only Northern delegate who was duly elected to represent a genuine constituency.

IT IS STATED at Washington that General SHERIDAN has written a letter to a member of the Cabinet, backing out of the opinions expressed of the Louisiana Convention in his telegram to General GRANT.

REV. J. W. HORTON, Chaplain of the Louisiana Convention, and among the killed, was a native of Nantucket, Mass., and a direct descendant of Gen. JOSEPH WARREN.

THE Republicans of Greene county open the campaign by a mass meeting in Jackson township, August 17th; to be followed by another, August 18th, in Center township.

IT is confidently asserted that General B. F. Butler will be nominated for Congress by the Republicans of the Fifth Massachusetts District.

THE Butler American says that since the New Orleans butchery there is not a Johnson man among the Republicans of that county.

THE wife of Rev. Hart L. Stewart, Jr., of Chicago, has commenced an action in divorce against him on a charge of adultery.

—Rev. Matthew Davenport died at Okolona, Mississippi, recently. He lacked only four days of being one hundred years old. He was born in Prince George county, Virginia, on the 11th day of July, 1766. He joined the Primitive Baptist Church at the age of nineteen years, and was a minister of the Gospel of that denomination upwards of seventy years.

—That portion of the musical fraternity in the United States which uses the piano will, no doubt, be astonished to learn that there are in this country but 2,776 of these instruments. That is, the honest and upright tax-payers of the country only returned that many for tax to the internal revenue collectors in 1865.

More Testimonials—Dr. Geo. L. McCook.

The distinguished Physician and Surgeon, who, after an experience of ten years, with the most eminent Dentists of this city and elsewhere, in procuring a serviceable set of teeth, gave up his case as being hopeless, until recently, at the solicitations of friends and relations was induced to try Dr. G. W. Spencer, and with what success the following handsome note will indicate:

PITTSBURGH, August 6th, 1866.

DR. G. W. SPENCER—Dear Sir: After a fair and full trial of the set of teeth which you made for me, I am happy to say that they excel my expectations; they are easy to wear and convenient in mastication. I hope that the success which you have met with in my case may attend all your future efforts.

Respectfully, &c.,
Signed, GEO. L. MCCOOK.

A Precious Chest.

The most important thing to insure health and long life, is a good strong chest, such as is usually possessed by every one with a sound constitution. In Pittsburgh, as in every other large city, there are thousands who delay applying a remedy in time to check the invasions of disease, until some fatal lesion occurs, which soon undermines the constitution and saps the foundations upon which depends health and long life. DR. KEYSER, of 140 Wood street, prepares a medicine called "PECTORAL SYRUP," as well as other great remedies, which have been the means of rescuing thousands from the grasp of one of the most fearful, and generally considered incurable, maladies known to the medical world. Dr. Keyser's medicines are perfectly agreeable to the most feeble constitution and have cured when every other known remedy has failed. His medicines are real renovators of the human constitution. They have a peculiar influence over all the secretions, and will assuredly make new and good blood, which is the source of all healthy and correct movements in the animal economy. It is by this means that many of those cancerous and scrofulous diseases are cured by him. His manner of examining the lungs is peculiar to himself, and is accomplished by means of an instrument, which points out the condition of the pulmonary organs as accurately as if they could be seen working through a glass. The examination is entirely free from pain, and is the best means known to give a person a true knowledge of the condition of the lungs and other organs of the chest. Some remarkable cases of cures can be referred to in this city and neighborwood, when he has restored to health persons who have been given over to die with the very worst forms of consumption. From a Lady.

WEST MILTON, SARATOGA CO., N. Y., July 6, 1861.

DR. HOSTETTER—Sir: I have long delayed writing to you my sincere thanks for the good you have done my daughter. I can truly say that nothing but the kind hand of Providence and your BITTERS have saved her from an early grave. For three years I have been doctoring her with syrups and all kinds of bitters that have been recommended to me for her, besides having two first rate physicians; but all seemed to do her no good, while I was searching the almanacs and all the newspapers that I could get hold of, in hopes of finding something that would suit her case. Accidentally there came part of a newspaper around some goods that I bought at the Spa. In looking over I saw at a glance that your BITTERS was just what she needed. I sent the next day to Ballston Spa and got a bottle of your BITTERS. She commenced taking them, and such a change in one week with her appetite, and the distress that victuals occasioned, and that turning in the Stomach, I never saw in my life as there was to her. She has taken three bottles, and is now able to work all the time. I think there is a little derangement of the Liver. Please send me three bottles more, which I think will cure her entirely. We and others thought she had disease of the heart, but that beating and fluttering that would at most stop her breathing at times, is all gone. Yours, with respect,

MRS. AMANDA MCPHERSON.

HEART'S CONTENT, August 8.—Her Majesty's ship Terrible and the steamer Albany left on Wednesday morning. August 1st, and the Great Eastern and Medway sailed at 7 o'clock Thursday morning. All the vessels are fully supplied with coal and provisions. The members of the expedition are determined to recover and complete the cable of 1865 if it is possible. The Great Eastern has about eight thousand tons of coal on board, and provisions enough for a six months' cruise.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—A dispatch received from Commodore Mackay, at mid-night, dated at Trinity Bay, to-night, states that the cable across the Gulf of St. Lawrence, from Anse Bay to Port au Basque, was under way by Tuesday night of seventy-five fathoms. The portion of it lying in water over sixty fathoms deep was found imbedded in mud, and was in a splendid state of preservation. It was found to have been broken in two places by the anchors of fishing vessels. It was spliced at a distance of thirteen miles from the shore, but made coming on very badly. The splice was accomplished on Thursday, and a heavy sea, they were obliged to cut the cable under Cape North, where it was safely buoyed in that vicinity. Commodore Mackay states, "We shall await a fine day to land the shore end." The cable tests well, and there is not the least defect in it. New York will soon be in satisfactory telegraph communication with London.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Nothing Known of General Baird Being Relieved at Gen. Grant's Headquarters—From Our Italian Consul General—Cholera Quarantine—Appointments by the President—Internal Revenue Decision—Excitement Among the Department Clerks Concerning their Increased Compensation.

WASHINGTON, August 10.—No information has reached General Grant's Headquarters with regard to General Baird having been relieved from the military command at New Orleans.

Our Consul General in Italy writes that on the 20th ult., a quarantine of fifteen days was established by the Italian Government for all vessels arriving at the ports of that kingdom from Liverpool, the only British port thus situated, Marseilles and all other French ports on the Mediterranean, on account of the existence of the cholera at those localities.

The following appointments are made today: F. Stewart, of New York, J. R. Freese, of New York, and J. H. Alexander, of Maryland, commissioners to the International Exhibition of 1867 at Paris; Joseph H. Wilson, of the District of Columbia, Commissioner of the General Land Office, from August 9, 1866, vice J. M. Edwards, resigned; James Hall, Collector of Customs for the District of Waldoborough, Maine.

Attorney General Stanbury is appointed to discharge the duties of Secretary of State during the absence of Mr. Seward.

The Commissioner of Internal revenue has decided that the act of March 3d, 1865, repealed July 13 1866, imposing a tax of ten per cent. upon banks, and banking associations, for paying out the notes of said banks, does not apply to private banks doing business without a charter. If, however, a private banker receives and pays out the notes of State banks as a part of his banking association, State bank or banking association, this statute of liability is credited.

Considerable excitement was manifested among the clerks in the various Departments, in consequence of the impression which became general, that through a clerical error in the act, the clause which originally appeared in the miscellaneous appropriation bill, giving to the employees of the Government here an increase of 40 per cent. to their salaries, was subsequently stricken out in a Committee of Conference, and that the bill become a law without that clause. No official opinion has been given that the law is operative on the subject and many are disposed to believe, and from reliable sources of information it seems certain, that the additional pay contained does not appear in the manuscript copy of the law now at the State Department.

Ample provision has been made for telegraphic communication for journalists direct from the wigwam.

Seats have been provided for one hundred and thirty Journalists in front of the speakers' stand. The Press Club of this city have tendered the use of their rooms to reporters and correspondents of the press arriving from abroad.

A SOLDIER TRAIN ATTACKED.

HALF A DOZEN SOLDIERS WOUNDED.

Car Containing Gov. Curtin, Gen. Geary, and Women and Children Fired Into.

HARRISBURG, PA., August 10.—A special to the New York Tribune says: The particulars of the attack on the Geary soldiers, at York, last night, are as follows: The train was moving off, when the soldiers in the open gondolas were attacked by a party secreted in a corn field, whence came discharges of firearms, stones, and other missiles. Half a dozen soldiers were badly bruised about the head, and one was shot in the legs. Six shots were fired at the closed car, in which were Governor Curtin, General Geary, and the wife and children of the latter. One ball entered [illegible] the wood of the car. Of course the ladies were much frightened, but their screams were heard by the boys on board, who caused the train to stop, and went back after the attacking party, who immediately fled in all directions. A special policeman appointed by the Democratic authorities of York, is said to have fired several shots.

Return of Fenians From Ireland—Leavey to "Head Centre" Stephens—Brotherhood Prospects Brighter than Ever.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—General John H. Gleeson, Captain Condon, and Major Comerford, have arrived from Ireland. The two former were released by the government on condition of leaving at once for America. While confined they had a correspondence with Mr. West, United States Consul at Dublin, who admitted they were American citizens, but stated that the Lord Lieutenant would deal with them the same as ordinary subjects. Major Comerford comes as an envoy to Mr. Stephens, and says the numerical strength and hopes of the Fenians in Ireland are better now than when Stephens left; that the people are determined to fight, aid or no aid from America. Their confidence in Stephens is unabated, and they condemn the conduct of the factions in America.

A Washington special says the President and Mr. Seward will visit Auburn on their return from Chicago.

The Steedman-Fullerton Freedmen's Bureau Inspection.

NEW YORK, August 10.—The report of the Freedman's Bureau Inspectors, recently made by Generals Steedman and Fullerton, is published. In the course of the report the officers state that there was considerable difficulty in reporting upon the settled mode of administration among the agents. There is an entire absence of system in the whole organization. The contract system controls the labor of one State, while the labor is not controlled at all in another. The general Government furnishes the funds in one district and confiscation of the planters and the negroes furnish them in another. They finally close their report by saying that the system of contracts, enforced by the bureau, is simply slavery in a modified form.

Court Martial of Freedmen's Bureau Officers.

RALEIGH, N. C., August 10.—The court martial which has been engaged here for six weeks, trying army officers of the Freedmen's Bureau in North Carolina, on the charges raised by Generals Steedman and Fullerton, has to-day concluded the last case on the list. The evidence in the six trials which have taken place has been of the highest importance, as exhibiting minutely the working of the Bureau, all classes of witnesses having been examined. The forthcoming trials of Mr. Boyden and other civilian agents of the Freedmen's Bureau, before a military commission, will more fully exhibit the offences alleged against them by generals Steedman and Fullerton.

Assembling of the "Conservative" and Secession Leaders—Beverly Johnson, Montgomery Blair, Edgar Cowan, Brannado Wood et. al.

The War in Germany—Peace to be Concluded Shortly—The Deposed Princes.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—A Berlin dispatch of July 27th reports that peace will probably be concluded very shortly.

The future position of those Princes who have been forced by recent events to quit their dominions, must be reserved for special arrangement between them and the King of Prussia, and for the approval of a German Parliament, as the countries occupied by the Prussian and Austrian troops will be.

The mediatory efforts of the Grand Duke of Baden in relation to southern Germany, will probably meet with a speedy and favorable result.

PHILADELPHIA, August 10.—This afternoon a man genteelly dressed visited a house of ill fame, near 11th Race street, with a well dress ed girl. After remaining secluded about an hour the girl came out, saying the girl was asleep, and he did not wish that she should be disturbed. An hour or two later the keeper of the house, wishing to wake the girl, visited the room and found her head nearly severed from her body and a sheet tied tightly around her. The keeper of the house immediately communicated the facts to the police. The girl has not been identified, nor has the man been arrested.

Pennsylvania State Equal Rights League—Interesting Addresses by Mr. Hughes, of Harrisburg, and Mr. Galloway, now a Refugee from North Carolina.

The Pennsylvania State Equal Rights League assembled Thursday morning in the Wylie street Church. The morning and afternoon sessions were chiefly occupied in alterations and amendments to the Constitution of the State and subordinate Leagues, and in making nominations for officers, to serve for the ensuing year. The Business Committee reported resolutions, which were considered yesterday.

Mr. A. H. Galloway, President of the State Equal Rights League of North Carolina, was present at the afternoon session. Mr. Galloway is a refugee, having been driven from his home on account of his persistent opposition to the actions of the upholders of "my policy," who are perpetrating untold outrages upon the freedmen of his native State. He has, since his exodus from North Carolina, had interviews with Hon. W. D. Kelley and other prominent Congressmen in Washington City, governor Curtin, and [illegible] and was seated to them the true state of affairs in the South, and the perilous condition of all men in the States lately in rebellion who dare to be loyal to the Government, which traitorous hands and perfidious hearts have sought to subvert.

In the evening, Mr. O. L. C. Hughes, of Harrisburg, by request, delivered before the League an address made by him at the celebration of the anniversary of the British West India Emancipation, held under the auspices of the Reading Equal Rights League, August 1st. His speech was eloquent and abounded in sound arguments. The speaker discussed the question of impartial suffrage with great clearness. The address was well received.

At the conclusion, Mr. A. H. Galloway, of North Carolina, was introduced to the meeting by Mr. O. V. Catto, of Philadelphia. Mr. Galloway proceeded to give an account of the difficulties he had encountered previous to his leaving home. He gave a full history of the doings of the Steadman-Fullerton Commission and the efforts made to abolish the Freedmen's Bureau, to which he met a steady and persistent opposition. It was in consequence of this opposition and his continued efforts to advance and protect the interests of the colored people, that he had been driven from his home and is now a refugee in our midst. He made an interesting, and lucid statement of the condition of the colored people and the "my policy constructed rebels" of the South.

The incidents in his experience and the history of his action, since the close of the war, were listened to with marked attention by the large audience assembled to hear the addresses. His account of the conduct and animus of the Southern rebels showed them to be, as a rule, still rebels at heart—men who are only submitting partially to the new order of events, because they are not able to successfully oppose it for the want of the prospects of success.

Mr. Galloway, at the close of his interesting and patriotic remarks, was seated with applause. The meeting, after the transaction of some minor matters, adjourned to meet at 9 o'clock on Friday morning.

The following officers were elected on Friday, to serve for the ensuing year:

President—William Nesbit, of Blair.

Vice-Presidents—D. B. Bowser, of Philadelphia; W. E. Welch, Northampton; S. Cooper, Bradford; E. F. Pulpress, Allegheny.

Recording Secretary—Thomas White, Jr., of Philadelphia; O. V. Catto, of Philadelphia.

Another Homicide—Was Killed in Lawrenceville—Arrest of the Alleged Murderer.

In the line of our duty we are again called upon to record the death by violence of another human being, by means of the knife. It transpired in the Borough of Lawrenceville, on Thursday night. The name of the person killed is George M. Hallas Myers, and his alleged slayer is James Laughran, both residents of the borough. The circumstances of the affair are about as follows: The parties had a difficulty, and subsequently thereto, about ten o'clock, whilst Laughran and his companions were seated on the Arsenal wall, in Butler street, Myers and friends came along, under the influence of liquor. Coming to the place where Laughran was sitting, Myers said, pointing out Myers, "there is the man who whaled me." This led to a second melee, of but brief duration, Laughran retreating, followed by Myers, who leaped upon his back, and endeavored to throttle him. They struggled for a time, Laughran getting away, and Myers retreating to the spot where the fatal stabbing, "I am cut with a knife," said in a few minutes fell to the ground. His companions, discovering that he was bleeding profusely, conveyed him to the residence of a mother, and summoned Dr. James Robinson. Death ensued in about two hours from internal hemorrhage. Laughran was arrested during the night and lodged in the tombs.

Coroner Clawson held an inquest on Friday afternoon, and after examining several witnesses, the jury found "that George M. Hallas Myers came to his death on the 9th of August, from a wound inflicted by a knife in the hands of James Laughran."

The accused remains in the tombs, but will probably be committed to-day.

—Dr. James Robinson testified before the Coroner's jury that the wound which caused death was to the left side of the umbilical region, the knife in its course severing the epigastric artery, and penetrating the peritoneal covering of the bowels. A post mortem examination was made at which Drs. Covert and Arensburg assisted.

The Congressional Contest—Letter from Gen. Negley.

PITTSBURGH, August 10, 1866.

EDITOR GAZETTE—SIR:—My attention has been directed to an editorial in this morning's paper in which reference was made to a private conversation held with a gentleman on Fifth street. It appears to me that the publication of strictly private conversations is a violation of the friendly relations which have always existed between the reputed author and myself, and as he has only reported part of the conversation, the intention seems to be one of grave injustice. The conversation in relation to the matter which had been circulated by the friends of Mr. Moorhead. Further, that there had been repeated instances of this very kind of underhanded villainy to publish my defeat. I stated, and now openly repeat, that unless Gen. Moorhead denies that he has used, or permitted his friends to use his nomination by bribery and corruption, "that I would vote for him as a matter of honor, but I would from this time forward consider him a corrupt politician." But I did not say I would oppose his election, and I do not now state authoritatively that Gen. Moorhead has been a party to the corruption referred to, but I have been credibly informed that large sums of money have been used and promised. Also, that some of the parties who were connected with these transactions have used the name of Gen. Moorhead in making the offers.

Gen. Moorhead deceived me by stating that he did not intend to be a candidate for re-nomination for Congress, and if he adds to that the improper use of this money he made while I was in the field defending the government which was furnishing him profitable contracts, I am not bound by any party ties to respect him. Yours, very truly,

JAS. S. NEGLEY.

An Erratic Husband—A Wife Charged With Stealing Her Own Property.

Mrs. Sarah Manning was brought before Alderman Donaldson, yesterday, charged on oath of her mother-in-law, Anble Manning, with larceny. At the hearing the following strange facts were revealed: Five years since the accused was married to James Manning, a son of the prosecutrix, who, after living with her a short time, went to Chicago, where he remained for five months, and during the time failed to contribute a single cent to the support of his wife, who, in a state of destitution was forced to return to her widowed mother, who provided for her wants as well as her limited means would permit. Not only did she do this, but she also provided for the support of the derelict husband, who, on his return, took up his abode with his wife's mother. Mrs. Davis, utterly refusing to perform any labor, until he again went to Chicago and returned. In his absence he accumulated some money, which he furnished two rooms, and he and his wife went to house-keeping. Having a Child Harold's desire to roam he again deserted his wife and two weeks since, going where, no one could tell. Believing he had left her forever, the abused wife removed her household effects to her mother's, and with her child made her home there. Judge of her surprise when she was arrested yesterday for stealing her own furniture. Of course she was discharged, the evidence going to show that the goods alleged to have been stolen were the property of the accused.

United States District Court,

Hon. Wilson McCandless presiding.

Friday, Aug. 10.—In the case of John Gill and John McGurn, tried on Thursday for passing counterfeit money, the jury returned a verdict of guilty, recommending the prisoners to the mercy of the Court.

John McCleery, indicted for having counterfeit money in his possession, pleaded guilty, and was remanded for sentence.

The next case taken up was that of William Dalzell, indicted for having in his possession and selling counterfeit money. The defendant is a resident of Temperanceville, and was arrested a short time since. The evidence against him appeared to be of the most conclusive nature. The case was not concluded at adjournment.

A Connubial Quarrel and its Results.

Pennsylvania avenue, in the vicinity of High street, was the theatre of quite an exciting scene yesterday afternoon, in which a number of the city police and a certain James Patterson and wife took prominent parts. The primeval cause of the affair was a row between Patterson and his wife, he having, as she alleged, stolen from her a considerable sum of money, which he spent in procuring such a quantity of fighting liquor as to make him particularly anxious to display on some animate object a striking illustration of his combativeness. The opportunity for the gratification of his desires was not long wanting, for Mrs. Patterson, nerved with something stronger than soda water, and smarting under her pecuniary loss, pitched into her liege lord, and for a time had the best of the sanguinary struggle that ensued; but the tide of battle at length turned in favor of James, and taking the cheek of the unfortunate Mrs. P. in his teeth, inflicted severely as to make her cry out in pain and distress. The noise consequent on the disturbance attracted the attention of two of the special police, who, hurrying from the street into the chamber where the combat raged, [illegible] the masculine belligerent. They would have succeeded but for the interference of Mrs P., who, being a strong believer in the doctrine of non-intervention in family quarrels, hastened to the relief of her husband, and struck the officers over the head and shoulders many and heavy blows with a broomstick which forced them at length to let go their hold on Patterson and seek refuge in flight. On the street they met two of their associates, and with renewed confidence and augmented numbers, they again attempted to make the arrest. But the ball of hostilities the re-united twain within had not been idle, and when the assault was renewed the stormers discovered that the house had been put in a perfect state of defense, and all efforts to force an entrance were unavailing. After viewing the situation from many standpoints, and resolving on a dozen plans of campaign, each of which were discarded in turn, the besiegers determined on a flanking movement. Sending two of their number to make a feint in the enemy's rear, the remainder, with the aid of half a dozen dirty faced urchins, procured a ladder, and placing it against a second story window, sought to effect an entrance. But alas! their strategy was at fault, for as the policeman had almost reached the window Mrs. P. threw the ladder aside and the "grey" man had an expeditious passage to terra firma. By this time a crowd numbering some five hundred had assembled on the spot and the liveliest interest was centered in the contest, after over an hour's duration, terminated in the party in the rear effecting an entrance, and Mr. and Mrs. Patterson were conveyed to the tombs. There all disagreement and all was quiet along the lines.

Mount Auburn Institute—Where to Educate our Daughters.

Among our new advertisements to-day may be found the card of the Young Ladies' Institute, located at Mount Auburn, Ohio.

The Mount Auburn Young Ladies' Institute was founded Sept. 10, 1856. Since that its history has been one of uninterrupted prosperity and growth. The design of the founders was conceived in a liberal spirit, and neither money nor earnest thought has been spared to make their enterprise successful. They aimed at nothing less than building up an institution which should become everything that a school for young ladies ought to be.

WHY AND WHITHER?

The possession by Mr. WILLIAM H. SEWARD of eminent intellectual powers has not sufficed to gain him the confidence of those of his countrymen who agree with the drift of his inculcations. A sinister aspect, to the popular apprehension, has always appeared in his character and conduct, begetting the suspicion that a wide and irreconcilable discrepancy existed between the decisions of his intellect and promptings of his emotions. Hence, though confessedly the mental leader of the Republican party, at its inception and through the arduous struggles by which its power was consolidated, he has signally failed to inspire respect for depth of moral convictions. On all three of the occasions when that party has been called upon to nominate a candidate for the Presidency, Mr. SEWARD'S claims and pretensions were set aside; and, once at least, under circumstances calculated to touch his sensibilities and humble his pride. That he felt the slight does not admit of denial; that he resolved upon revenge, and has steadily pursued it, is susceptible of the clearest demonstration.

When Mr. JOHNSON was elevated to the Presidency Mr. SEWARD was suspended between life and death in consequence of the murderous assault of PAYNE. Mr. JOHNSON entered on his new duties, giving the strongest proofs of his intentions to bear true allegiance to the men and the principles that carried him up to the Vice Presidency. Indeed, there was a sternness in his declarations that evidenced a tendency to go further than all except the Republicans of the most extreme views desired. He kept on in this way for some time. Till when? Till precisely the period when Mr. SEWARD was so far recovered from his hurts as to resume his wonted activity. Then it was he poured into Mr. JOHNSON'S mind the unclean scheme for obtaining a re-election by reducing the loyal North to subjection under the rule of the rebel South. Instantly the President changed front. A complete revolution came over his ideas and sentiments. The partially formed purpose of convening Congress in special session was abandoned. Instead of adopting this wholesome and constitutional measure, a Proclamation was issued inviting, not in terms but in effect, all the most conspicuous rebel chiefs to the Presidential Mansion, in order to concert the contemplated counter-revolution with them. What was this Proclamation? It was an offer of special pardon to rebels holding estates exceeding twenty thousand dollars each. Under it thousands of the rebel leaders made pilgrimages to the White House, and in the conferences that ensued was perfected the agreement for organizing a new party, to be composed of rebels, copperheads and conservatives which should be pledged to wrest the triumph from the victors in the great war, and bestow it on the vanquished.

This Policy was developed in a terrific manner in the New Orleans massacre. The object was, by a bloody demonstration, to strike terror into the hearts of all loyal men throughout the Southern States. Most effectually has the desired end been attained. Now, the President has the entire loyal element of that section under his iron heel, and he means to keep it there.

What next? Instead of listening to Congress the President has issued, through satellites, his edict convoking an unconstitutional and revolutionary assembly to meet at Philadelphia next week. Mark; we make no objection to assemblies of the people for the consideration of public affairs. This is not such an assembly. It did not originate with the people, and has not been managed by them. It was ordered by the President, as a defiance to the law-making bodies of the nation; and has been managed by him and his Cabinet officers. What is this body to do? We do not inquire—in what sophistries will it indulge? by what dissimulations will it seek impose on the credulous? by what incentives will it inflame Cupidity and Ambition? Its managers are experienced and skillful men, and know the advantages which result from a fair exterior. What is its real work? To agree upon the men who shall be sent up to Congress from the rebel States, and with what professions they shall come. The President has shown in New Orleans of what he is capable. It is time the loyal people of the country understood that a repetition of those bloody scenes is contemplated at Washington, and that the representatives of the States and the people, and their defenders are to be the victims.

ARBITRARY ARRESTS.

The whole system of Arbitrary Arrests, as put in execution, during the war, throughout the loyal States, by Secretaries SEWARD and STANTON, received our unqualified disapprobation. Not that we commiserated the fate of most of the men who were summarily locked up; for they were notoriously disloyal, deserving all they got and more too. Nor yet, did we then, nor do we now, deny the right to make arrests by military authority during the actual existence of hostilities. Military law is just as absolutely the law of this land as the civil law; only each must be exhibited in its proper sphere and under appropriate conditions. What we objected to, was that men arrested were not speedily served with specifications of the offences alleged to have been committed by them, put on trial before commissioners duly constituted, punished if found guilty, and allowed freely to go their ways if declared innocent. Two or three convictions, in conspicuous cases, followed by just punishment, would have put the administration in the right, and prevented a vast amount of trouble. As matters were managed—locking men up; keeping them in duress as long as was thought convenient; and then turning them out without explanation—the Administration was so clearly in the wrong that a decent defence of it was impossible.

When the war subsided, and civil rule again became predominant, the officers ordering and making these arrests unexpectedly found themselves involved in difficulties. They were in turn arrested, charged with the offence of false imprisonment. Among others, Marshal MURRAY, of the Eastern District of New York, found himself in this predicament; and in one case, a judgment for damages was rendered against him in the sum of $9,000, in the Supreme Court of the State.

Finding how affairs were moving, the office holders, who had been proceeded against, or were in danger of having suits brought against them, for summary arrests and military detentions, had sufficient influence to procure, on the 3d of March, 1863, the passage of a law by Congress, exonerating them from all penalties incurred, and providing for the removal from State Courts to Federal ones of all suits commenced, or that might thereafter be commenced against them. Under this law Marshal MURRAY has taken an appeal from the Supreme Court of the United States to the United States Court. The latter Court has made an order that the Clerk of the Supreme Court in which the judgment was entered, shall make a return to the writ of error issued in the case out of the United States Circuit Court. But this is not conclusive in the matter. It remains for the Federal Court to decide whether or not it has jurisdiction in the case after its removal. Besides, this puts the matter in a shape to go up to the Supreme Court at Washington for ultimate settlement. Not till this shall be done, and a decision reached sustaining the validity of the Act of Congress referred to, with the officers and agents of the Government concerned in making Arbitrary Arrests obtain a comforting sense of security.

PRESBYTERIANISM FETTERED IN THE SOUTH.

The demoralizing effects of the slaveholders' rebellion in the South is daily becoming more manifest in various forms. Recently there has been developed a phase of this demoralization that will surprise many. The question of the ordination of colored ministers and their relation to the Southern Presbyterian Church, it appears, has been a theme of considerable discussion down South. Reports indicate that the views of the majority of the ministers of that body are at variance with the loyal Church in the North. This new feature developed itself at a meeting of the Presbytery of Hopewell, at its sessions in Athens, Georgia. The subject was thoroughly discussed, and in one of the resolutions it was ordered that "three colored members and licensed exhorters in connection with the Macon church, be set apart by the Presbytery to be Presbyterian ministers, with power to preach the gospel, to administer the sacrament of the Church, to solemnize marriages, and to ordain ruling elders and deacons; provided that these men shall be regarded as ordained ministers in the Presbyterian Church only in connection with their own people."

The existence of an order in this Georgia church, of "licensed exhorters," possesses some novelty, as it is unknown, we believe, elsewhere in the Presbyterian Church. A writer in the Presbyterian alleges this action to be contrary to the Scriptures, and plainly subversive of the fundamental principles of the Gospel. It is affirmed by this writer that the action of the Presbytery overthrows a distinctive principle of that Church, and one to which she has clung amid bloody persecution

It is very forcibly shown that the action of the Presbytery destroys the communion of saints. The colored ministers are, in every sense of the term, such but one. The plain meaning of this action is, that while they are full ministers as concerns the colored people, they are simply laymen as concerns the white people; i. e. they cannot preach to, marry, or administer the sacraments to white people. It is in accordance with the Confession of Faith, which states that the Lord Jesus instituted it "as a bond and pledge of their communion with him, and with each other, as members of his mystical body." The communion of saints is likewise destroyed as to the preaching of these colored ministers, for saints, "having united to each other in love, have communion in each other's gifts and graces."

It is further alleged the action of the Presbytery overthrows the doctrine of the parity of the ministry. This fundamental doctrine of the Presbyterian church has ever been maintained amid bitter persecutions. The action of the Presbytery also violates the Constitution of the Presbyterian Church, which requires the Moderator to address the candidate at the time of his license that he is "to preach the gospel, wherever God, in his providence may call him." But the Presbytery of Hopewell changed the form; they license men "to preach the gospel to colored people alone." The last argument urged by this writer is that this action is contrary to the great commission of the Lord Jesus Christ, after which it is claimed the Presbyterian form is moddled, and upon which its authority to license, is based.

While it is true that it is the action of but one Presbytery, the movement has been endorsed privately by many ministers, and no Southern newspaper or Presbytery, that we are aware of, has condemned it.

THE PEW QUESTION.

The Church Review asserts that the Church of England has grown more in numbers, church buildings, schools, and voluntary offerings of all sorts, for all purposes, ecclesiastical and benevolent, foreign and domestic, in twenty-five years, than in the three hundred years previous. Strange as it may appear the chief element, it says, of its power and of its success has been its deadly hostility to the pew system, and the remorseless and unflinching war which it has waged with pews and pew sales and pew rents in every varied form of the abomination.

Recently-published district returns of English Wesleyan Methodism show that a decline has occurred in several of the oldest districts, where it is alleged, it has been occasioned in good part, by the "exclusiveness of pews," which has been adopted by the Wesleyans. It is stated in the very districts where the greatest decline has occurred there has been "an improvement in church architectures," and in the amount of "money contributions," and an "affectation of gentility" prevails. It is thought by some that this "exclusiveness" has supplanted those characteristics which belong to the earlier period, when Methodism was the "great phenomenon" of the age, "sweeping onward with a breadth and force truly astonishing." The evil complained of in the Wesleyan body does not exist hereabouts to any great extent, as in the East and portions of the West and Northwest. It is noteworthy that two Methodist churches, one in New York and one in Brooklyn, have abandoned the pew system. A writer in the Christian Advocate thinks that if the causes of the decline in English Methodism are correctly traced and truly stated, it is worthy of thought in this Centenary of American Methodism. He proposes to offer a prize of five hundred dollars for a prize-tract on the evils of the "pew system" in Methodism.

POLITICAL NEEDLE GUNS.

The Boston Transcript suggests that Andrew Johnson, like Andrew Jackson, had now better be styled the "Hero of New Orleans."

—The Chicago Republican gives the following version of General Dix, amended by Johnson: "If any man attempts to haul down the American flag, ask him if he will accept a 'national situation.'"

—Thomas S. Turner, of Freeport, Chairman of the Republican State Committee of Illinois, having gone over to the Bread-and-Butter party, has resigned. He will have a place as Collector of Internal Revenue.

—It is said that if the straight-out Johnson men of Illinois send a full delegation to the Philadelphia "Bread-and-Butter" convention, there will not be a Johnson man remaining in the State during the session of said convention.

—The officers and soldiers of the Union army now in Louisiana visited the South originally to aid Southern Union men in putting down rebels. The President now keeps them there to aid the rebels in putting down original Union men.

—The Troy Times comments as follows upon the appearance of the name of Wm. Shakespeare, of Kalamazoo, signed to the call for the Johnson mass meeting in this city: "Has the dead men turn up about the time 'Conservative' meetings are to be held."

—A Mobile dispatch of a recent date contains the following bit of information:

"The project for establishing a radical paper here has been abandoned, as the editors would be mobbed; they having received several anonymous written letters."

Mobile is thoroughly reconstructed after the Johnson pattern. Freedom of the press is not an essential part of "my policy."

—They have a way of "putting things" out west that, to say the least of it, is very expressive. Among the resolutions of a late Union convention in Illinois we find the following:

Resolved, That "treason must be made odious," but that it cannot be made odious by giving rebels seats in Congress, nor by feeding Jefferson Davis on poached eggs and fried oysters.

—The Democratic scheme to nominate Gen. Sherman for President in 1868 is thus spoken of by the South Carolina Columbian:

"If there are two names which we should select to typify all that is fiendish in human nature, they are those of Sherman, the arch incendiary, and of Logan, his tool."

—The Chicago Tribune estimates the Western majorities for the congressional policy as follows:

	Maj		Maj

This School has just concluded its tenth year. Its history has been one of prosperity and growth from the commencement. The last two years the daily average attendance has been more than two hundred, and many have been refused for want of accommodation.

A NEW BUILDING

The LIBRARY, APPARATUS and CABINET are receiving yearly, valuable additions, and the purpose is kept steadily in view, to furnish every facility for a thorough course of instruction.
The Faculty consists of four male and eleven female teachers, all experienced instructors in their several departments.
The School is fully graded from the Preparatory department, through the entire course of Academical and Classical studies.

The Union Republican County Committee and the Candidates for Congress.

[CORRESPONDENCE.]

UNION REPUBLICAN HEADQUARTERS,
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 10, 1866.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—At a meeting of the Union Republican County Executive Committee, held August 8th, 1866, the following resolution was passed:

Resolved, That a circular letter be addressed to the candidates, respectively, for Congress in the Twenty-second District, inquiring whether they are willing to abide by the decision of the Convention, and carry out, if successful, the policy indicated by said Convention."

In accordance with the above, I addressed a letter to each of the candidates, and the following replies have been received from General J. K. Moorhead, General James S. Negley and the Hon. John P. Penny.

T. M. BAYNE,
Sec. Union Republican Co. Convention.

REPLY FROM GENERAL NEGLEY.

PITTSBURGH, August 10, 1866.

Col. T. M. Bayne, Secretary Union Republican Executive Committee:

SIR:—Absence from home prevented an earlier reply to your note. The statements which have been freely made by the friends of my opponent that I have wavered in my fidelity to the principles of the Union party, or that I intended to be an independent candidate in case I was defeated in the Convention to be held on the 16th inst., are false, and evidently originated for the purpose of defeating my nomination.

Allow me to inform the Executive Committee, as well as the public, that if my past services for the Government and the Union party are not ample guarantees for my fidelity in future, I have none better to offer.

Yours respectfully,
JAMES S. NEGLEY.

REPLY FROM MR. PENNY.

PITTSBURGH, August 10, 1866.

Col. T. M. Bayne, Secretary:

DEAR SIR:—I have just received your note communicating the resolution of the County Committee, and have to say in reply that, as a member of the Republican party since its first organization, whether a candidate before the Convention or not, I will abide by the decision, and give all the aid I can to promote the success of the principles of the party which I am sure the Convention will adopt and present to the people for their endorsement. Respectfully yours,

JOHN P. PENNY.

REPLY FROM GENERAL MOORHEAD.

PITTSBURGH, August 10, 1866.

Col. Thos. M. Bayne, Secretary Union Republican Executive Committee:

DEAR SIR:—Absence from home yesterday prevented an earlier reply to your communication, in which you state that the Committee has instructed you to inquire of the candidates for Congress in the Twenty-second Congressional District, "whether they are willing to abide by the decision of the Congressional convention, and to carry out, if successful, the principles indicated by said Convention."

I answer, that, at the request of a large number of my fellow citizens, I authorized my name to be used in the Republican Convention for nomination as a candidate for Congress, at the next election, in the following terms, viz:

PITTSBURGH, March 31, 1866.

GENTLEMEN:—A few days since I received your call, urging me to permit my name to be used as a candidate for re-election to Congress:

TO HON. J. K. MOORHEAD.

DEAR SIR:—The undersigned, in canvassing around for a candidate for Congress, feel that your present experience, influence and great usefulness in that body eminently qualify and fit you for the position; and we also consider that the place is due you for your valuable services, your devotion to the Union, and your earnest and efficient advocacy of the American system in which your own district is vitally interested; we therefore urge and earnestly request that you will permit us to use your name as our candidate for Congress, for the Twenty-second District, in the next Republican Union County Convention.

The very flattering terms used in regard to my services as your Representative—the large number and high character of the persons signing it—representing, as they do, all the various interests of the district—agriculture, commerce, manufactures, mechanics, mining, labor, and the learned professions—have caused me to hesitate about carrying out the long cherished purpose of retiring from Congress at the end of my present term. The earnest and overwhelming manner in which this call has been presented, the steady support and hearty approval of my official conduct, extending over a period of seven consecutive years, has placed me under obligations that cannot be forgotten nor overlooked. I therefore respectfully, for claims upon me, your right to command any experience, that I may have acquired, and my duty to use it so far as I am capable of doing so, as you have kindly intimated in your call, in "devotion to the Union and earnest, efficient advocacy of the American system."

My name is therefore at your disposal, to be placed before the next Republican Convention for nomination as a candidate for Congress for the Twenty-second Congressional District.

Respectfully yours,
J. K. MOORHEAD.

Cross Suits.—Andrew Morton appeared before Alderman Taylor, yesterday, and made oath against John Sherman, for assault and battery. The deponent accuses John of wantonly and without cause, knocking down and abusing the said deponent in a cruel and brutal manner. On being arrested, John made a similar deposition against Andrew, the only difference between the two charges being, that John fixed the date of his whipping, three weeks prior to that set forth in Andrew's information. Both claimed a right to law on account of priority of possession. The dispute ended in Dauler striking Derling over the face with the shovel in dispute. Dauler was held for a further hearing to-day.

Hit with a Shovel.—Abraham Dauler was before Alderman Lindsay, yesterday, charged with assault and battery, on oath of Simon N. Kerling. The parties are employed in a brick yard on Boyd's Hill, and quarreled about a shovel, which both claimed a right to use on account of priority of possession. The dispute ended in Dauler striking Derling over the face with the shovel in dispute. Dauler was held for a further hearing to-day.

Charged with Horse Stealing.—Charles Libby and Charles Stafage were committed to jail to-day by Mayor Mcdarthy for a further further hearing on a charge of stealing a pair of horses from the stable of F. S. Fowler, of Beaver county. The animals were found in the possession of the parties arrested, who live in the Ninth Ward.

Special Caution.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing syrup has become so popular that various parties have put out articles calling them Mrs. Winslow's. Please take notice that the Mrs. Winslow of the Soothing Syrup is not connected with any other article. jy31:d&w

EARLY TELEGRAMS.

FROM NEW ORLEANS.

The Late Riot—Gen. Sheridan's Dispatch—Freedmen Murdered in Mississippi—Union Men Leaving Their Homes.

NEW YORK, August 10.—A New Orleans special dispatch to the Tribune says: Official information at headquarters shows that the statement of Lieutenant Governor Voorhies, that forty-two policemen and several citizens were killed or wounded, is an unmitigated falsehood. One policeman died of sun-stroke, and about three were badly wounded. One citizen, a rebel, was killed accidentally by the police. On the other side the record will show the slaughter to be over 100 Union men, and the wounding of about 300. These are facts.

I have it from trustworthy authority that General Sheridan's telegram of the 1st of August was perverted for political purposes. Among the sentences withheld from publication was one that he (Sheridan) held Mayor John J. Monroe responsible for the murders committed on Monday.

Lieutenant Butts, of the Freedmen's Bureau, has been murdered and robbed in Jackson Parish. The rebels are complaining that they did not kill enough Yankees and conventioners, but that the time is coming when they will finish their work. Union men are afraid to go out on the streets after dark, and invariably barricade their homes during the night. While the present police is composed of thugs, life is terribly insecure day or night.

A special to the Tribune says: A private letter to General Howard, Inspector General, dated Vicksburg, Miss., August 3d, states that things are getting worse in the country every day. Freedmen murders are nothing new. At least thirty have been killed during the past six weeks in this county. Most foul deaths of the half-starved freedmen, and almost all cases of chills and fever, and chronic all humors of the scalp.

All descriptions of Government Bonds bought and sold on liberal terms.
London and Continental Exchange sold at New York rates.
Gold, Silver and Coupons bought at highest cash and Gold Drafts issued on New York.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

FRIDAY, August 10, 1866.

The New York stock quotations to-day, as reported by Mr. P. R. Mertz, were as follows: Gold, 145¾@145¾; 1881s, 110¾; old 5-20s, 109¾@109¾; ditto, 1864, 107; ditto, 1865, 107@107¼; 10-40s, 99½; 7-30s, 106@106¼; Cleveland & Pittsburgh R. R., 85¾; Fort Wayne, 105½; Erie, 68¾; Michigan Southern, 86¾@86¾; Western Union Telegraph, 59¼@59¾.

Government bonds were scarcely so firm to-day, with the exception of Ten Forties, which advanced ¾ per cent; Five Twenties of 1865 are fully ¼ lower, and the old bonds begin to waver. A lower quotation at London, or Frankfort, would, in all probability, cause a heavy decline, as there are large holders who are prepared to sell as soon as they get a round premium of ten per cent. But, in the event of a decline before, they will then sell at a lower rate, and thus assist a downward movement.

There is no great pressure to sell Seven Thirties, notwithstanding the premium is very tempting. It would be difficult to get an investment offering greater advantages, as they can be disposed of at any time, or converted into long bonds at pleasure. Gold is rather low—but firm, and the offerings in this market are very light.

Our local money market is working easier, there being no pressing demand, yet there is not much on the market, and the same is true of Bank stocks. We hear of sales of Second National at from 115¼ to 116, and Keystone Savings Bank at one dollar premium, which is offered for more.

—It has been announced that the offices will on the 15th instant cease to receive on the first series of Seven Thirty per cent Treasury notes of the United States. These notes are now convertible at the Treasury offices, or at Washington, free of expense to the holders, into the United States Five Twenty gold-bearing stock of 1865—either coupon or coupon. The exchange can be made before or after the 15th of August each at the holder's choice, the holder will receive seventy five days' interest from the 15th February last to 1st of August, at the rate of 7 30 per annum, or two cents per day on each $100, in addition to the Five-Twenty stock at par, dating and carrying interest in gold at 6 per cent from the 1st of May. If after the 15th of August coupon is collected, the holder will have to pay the back interest for 107 days to the 1st of May last, so as to equalize the exchange.

—The officers of the Secret Service Division of the Treasury Department, after weeks of diligent search of persons engaged in the manufacture of the fifty dollar compound interest notes, have at length succeeded in securing nearly one thousand dollars in the counterfeit currency, and also the plates from which the notes were printed. The plates appear to have been engraved by an experienced workman, and with but few exceptions are very accurate fac-similes of the genuine. The engravings of the oil figures on the faces of the notes are not so distinct as those of the remaining work, and the initials of the Indian-women, who grace the ornamental work, not bear close scrutiny. The signatures of the Register and Treasurer are nearly perfect and the Treasury seal of the Department, printed in red ink, is said to be the best every seen upon a counterfeit note. The notes, notwithstanding their defects, are considered by experts as among the best executed counterfeits ever issued.

—The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has decided, in reply the question, "Are savings Banks subject to the tax of one per cent, imposed on State Bank circulation?" that the purpose of the law was the suppression of State bank circulation, and as Savings Banks are not circulating banks, and as Savings Banks are expressly exempted, it is necessary to presume that they are included among the banks liable to tax. He considers all evasions of the law as frauds, and directs that where credits are opened, by the deposit or collection of money or currency, subject to be paid or remitted on draft, check or order, or on which money is advanced or loaned, Savings Banks, he says, should be specially exempted by name in order to relieve them of the second tax which takes the place of the license tax. But no exemption in their favor is made.

New York Stock and Money Market.

NEW YORK, August 10.—Call loans are dull at 1@5 per cent, with some business also as high as 6 per cent, on government securities. Prime discounts range from 6@7 per cent, with only small offerings. There is a little more inquiry for exchange, but there is no improvement in rates. Prime bankers bills at 60 days, are quoted at 109@109½. The gold market has ranged at from 145½ to 145¾ all day, closing at the latter rate. The Government securities close up a little lower on the five twenty coupons, but the balance of the list remains for the most part unchanged. The 5-20 coupons, 1865, 107@107¼; 1865 registered, 106@106; August, 105@105¾.

The Stock market at the last board was lower on Michigan Southern, and Erie was heavy. New York Central and Erie have been the features of the day, and the business has been most active in those shares. The former has also advanced and closed firm. The Western shares have not been as strong as the New York ones and prices are generally lower, as compared with last evening, particularly on Michigan Southern.

At the afternoon session the market for Petroleum stocks was dull and very little business was transacted. Prices were lower, with little demand and no offering, but otherwise unchanged.

The Post's money article says: The Gold market opened with a steady tone and afterwards became firmer. There has been a brisk borrowing demand for coin for delivery, and loans have ruled at the most unusual rate of 2 per day, the extreme rates being 1-16@¼ per cent. There is no change in the state of the Money market, and call loans are made at 5 per cent, with exceptions at 6 on Government, and at 5 on Railway stocks. First class commercial paper is in demand at 9@9 per cent. The Stock market has shown a little improvement of business, and there was a strong disposition manifested to operate for the government securities are steadily and fairly active; the offers were in demand at 99½@100¾, the latter being the closing quotation. Sixes declined ¼ at the first Board. The market continued firm, and the offerings were well distributed. As some misapprehension has existed relative to the quotation of 7 30 for Illinois Central in London, it may be well to mention that the quotation at 42@43 for August 15th, is for the quotation of the 7 30 per cent coupon on the first series of Seven Thirty per cent Treasury notes of the United States. These notes are now convertible at the Treasury offices, or at Washington, free of expense to the holders, into the United States Five Twenty gold-bearing stock of 1865—either coupon or coupon. The exchange can be made before or after the 15th of August each at the holder's choice, the holder will receive seventy five days' interest from the 15th February last to 1st of August, at the rate of 7 30 per annum, or two cents per day on each $100, in addition to the Five-Twenty stock at par, dating and carrying interest in gold at 6 per cent from the 1st of May. If after the 15th of August coupon is collected, the holder will have to pay the back interest for 107 days to the 1st of May last, so as to equalize the exchange.
